

2L and 3L Law Students:
(Recent Grads too!)
Are you interested in becoming an IP Section Reporter at the State Bar of California's 42nd Annual Intellectual Property Institute?

The Intellectual Property Section of the State Bar of California is looking for 2Ls, 3Ls and recent graduates to serve as IP Section Reporters at the IP Institute in Newport Beach on November 1-3, 2017.

What You'll Get:

- Complimentary registration for the Institute, including all ticketed events
- Opportunity to learn about IP law from distinguished practitioners and judges
- Networking opportunities

What You'll Do:

- Attend the conference
- Tweet and post in social media during assigned programs and events using the #CAIPSection hashtag
- Take and post photographs throughout the conference
- Author a short recap article after the conference
- Assist speakers
- Other fun and helpful stuff

The conference will take place at the beautiful Hyatt Regency hotel in Newport Beach. For more information about the conference including the full program, click here: <http://www.calbar.ca.gov/Attorneys/Sections/Intellectual-Property-Law/Education/IP-Institute>

If you are selected, the State Bar will cover your registration fees for the Institute. You will be responsible for travel and lodging. Some law schools may offer funding to cover these costs.

Eligibility:

- You must be currently enrolled in a California law school, or a recent graduate (within 1-2 years of graduation) who is unemployed. Interest or experience in IP law is a plus.
- You must have a Twitter account and be proficient at tweeting.
- You must be a member of the IP Section. Membership in up to three Sections is FREE for law students and first year practicing attorneys. If you aren't already a member, submit your Section Enrollment Form with your application: <http://www.calbar.ca.gov/Attorneys/Sections/Join-a-State-Bar-Section>

How to Apply: Send an email with the subject line "2017 IP Section Reporter" and include a statement of interest, a short writing sample, and your Twitter handle (if any) to John Buelter, State Bar IP Section Coordinator at John.Buelter@calbar.ca.gov and copy Erica Bristol, Program Coordinator at ericab@ebmediate.com by midnight on October 15, 2017.
